Profile Summary

I love to paint on canvas. As a UX professional, I create easy-to-use solutions and enjoyable experiences for enterprise platforms, consumer products, and digital services. I connect human behavioral patterns with computing algorithms using data-driven insights and translating them into actionable business acumen.

Over a decade of pragmatic experience with innovative startups and industry-leading corporations across multiple domains like healthcare and life science, banking and finance, oil and energy, and IoT engineering. I resolve design challenges by blending aesthetics and empathy to craft impactful, and logical designs.
